DETAILED ACTION

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 102

1. The following is a quotation of the appropriate paragraphs of 35 U.S.C. 102 that form the basis for the rejections under this section made in this Office action:

A person shall be entitled to a patent unless -

- (b) the invention was patented or described in a printed publication in this or a foreign country or in public use or on sale in this country, more than one year prior to the date of application for patent in the United States.
- 2. Claims 1, 22, 20, and 7 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(b) as being anticipated by Sica

Sica discloses the use of a protective instrument cover (10) comprising a front portion that extends over substantially an entire front surface of a stringed instrument body and is between the stringed instrument body and a string of the stringed instrument body; and means for attaching the front portion of the front surface of the stringed instrument body without requiring removal of hardware if the stringed instrument body (see figure 1).

- 3. Claims 2-5, 21, 8, and 23 would be allowable if rewritten to overcome the rejection(s) under 35 U.S.C. 112, 2nd paragraph, set forth in this Office action and to include all of the limitations of the base claim and any intervening claims.
- 4. Claims 10-13, 15, 16, and 18 are allowed.

Response to Arguments

5. Applicant's arguments with respect to claims 1 and 7 have been considered but are most in view of the new ground(s) of rejection.

With regards to the applicant's argument regarding the lack of an equivalence with the mounting means, the examiner maintains that the equivalence of the mounting means of attaching is the screw means (42) as disclosed in Sica and that mounting means is attached without "requiring removal of hardware of the stringed instrument body". With regards to the applicant's arguments that the cover extend, the cover as disclosed by Sica extends "over substantially an entire front surface of a stringed instrument body" as disclosed in figures 3 and 4 of Sica. The examiner maintains the rejection of a pick guards as discussed in the conference with the applicant since a review of 35 USC 112 sixth paragraph indicates that the prior art show a "equivalence" of the applicant's mounting means and that equivalence is disclosed in Sica by element 42.
